

IMG_8109

a control arm, and most of the trials of favilavir were based on a small sample size. For more reliable assessment of the effectiveness of favilavir for treating COVID-19, large-scale randomized controlled trials should be conducted. Lopinavir and ritonavir were reported to have in vitro inhibitory activity against SARS-CoV and MERS-CoV^{TM!}, Alone, the combination of lopinavir